UPDATE

Olde Salt House reopens for business

By Abigail Adams
aadams@wickedlocal.com

Just two weeks after the Olde Salt House patio collapsed into Cohasset Cove, the harbor restaurant is back open for business.

The Olde Salt House reopened its doors Saturday (July 15) after earning clearance from Building Inspector Bob Egan Friday afternoon.

The outdoor seating section of the beloved restaurant began to collapse on June 29 after years of erosion caused the embankment to give way underneath the weight of the concrete patio. According to the new Atlantica General Manager Joe Laspada, structural deficiencies were apparent months, if not years, before the incident occurred.

The good news, however, is that most of the patio was salvageable.

"It actually looks better than it did before," said Laspada, "and I think it is stronger than it has been for years."

Egan originally raised concerns regarding the physical state of the property to the restaurant's new owner, Gerd Ordelleheide, in April. Egan said the once-level deck posed a safety hazard for potential patrons after a crack opened up in the concrete, creating an uneven surface.

It was later determined that the granite wall retaining the patio had pitched

Storybook quilt starts a new chapter

For Betsy Millard, reading always had a special effect on her life and those around her. So as a former Cohasset resident, the Paul Pratt Memorial Library was like a second home to her for decades.

"Our family lived in Cohasset for 42 years so my children and grandchildren grew up using the children's library," said Millard. "I still use the Paul Pratt Library even

'Mom-trepenuer' puts classic twist on fashion

By Abigail Adams
aadams@wickedlocal.com

Andrea Romito hasn't been designing clothing for long but her unique, classic-style brand Nantucket Kids has already made a big splash in boutiques down the East Coast.

"If I wouldn't put my own children in it, I wouldn't design or sell it," said the mother of three.

Romito, 35, developed Nantucket Kids roughly a year ago when she was unable to return to work in the insurance industry after having her third child. The Cohasset mother's inspiration and taste for this particular style of clothing came from her own mother's love for dressing her in classical-style garments as a child and has passed down this practice to her own family.

"Classical never goes out of style," she said. "It's traditional, it's classic, it is always going to look good."

Many of the styles produced by Nantucket Kids embody the traditional feel many garments from the 1940's and 1950's tended to incorporate. One of the company's most popular pieces has been what is known as "the Jon-Jon," a romper-style outfit reminiscent of those worn by John F. Kennedy Jr. while he lived in the White House in the 1960's.

"[The classical clothing style] really has a historical significance tied to New England and not a lot of people know that," said

Romito. "It's very much a traditional southern style, but it actually originates in Massachusetts."

All Nantucket Kids products are made in a family owned-and-operated manufacturing facility in El Salvador, with fabrics proudly hand-selected by Romito herself.

Foxboro man cited following Rte. 3A rollover

By Mary Ford
mford@wickedlocal.com

A 35-year-old Foxboro man was issued two citations following a roll-over accident Wednesday (July 19) around 12:19 p.m. on Chief Justice Cushing Highway (Route 3A) at Crocker Lane.

Police said a 2011 Subaru, operated by a 40-year-old Franklin woman, was headed north when she stopped 50 feet south of Crocker Lane with her left directional on to turn left.

Her Subaru was clipped on its right rear tire well by the 2011 Subaru operated by the Foxboro man who was trying to pass on the right. His car rolled over as a result of the impact and was totaled, police said. He was cited for following too closely on a state highway and marked lanes violation.

The Franklin woman was transported to the hospital with non-life-threatening injuries by Cohasset ambulance. Her Subaru had damage to its right side and right rear. Both cars were towed.

Fraud

A 46-year-old Cohasset man reported to police last week that he had been receiving letters from an insurance company with his name and information.

It appeared that someone signed up using his biographical information and he wanted a report on file.

Handicap space

Police issued a $100 ticket to a white convertible illegally parked in a handicap spot at the medical building lot off Chief Justice Cushing Highway on Monday (July 7).

Police remind motorists that the handicap parking violation is $100 and the violation for parking by a hydrant is $50.

Vandalism

Police were again called to a vacant home on Castle Road off S. Main Street last week where the property management company discovered that people had broken in, left beer cans strewn about, punched walls and kicked windows. There was a similar incident about a month ago.

The property managers are going to do a better job of monitoring the property, police said.

Kayak stolen

A 48-year-old Cohasset man reported that his $350 Pelican Bay kayak that has a green top and a white bottom was missing from his property. He stores the kayak next to the garage; it was visible from the street, police said.

MVA

There was a rear-end accident on Chief Justice Cushing Highway (Route 3A) on Wednesday (July 12) around 9:30 p.m. near the entrance to Harborview Center for Nursing and Rehabilitation. Police said a 2017 Toyota Corolla, operated by an 18-year-old Norwell woman, who was headed north, slowed to make a left into the driveway to the nursing center. She was hit from behind by a 2000 Honda Civic, operated by a 19-year-old Hingham man.

There were no injuries. The Honda was towed and the Hingham operator was cited for following too closely on a state highway.

Locked in

A 55-year-old Quincy woman called police after inadvertently locking two small children, who were in car seats, in her 2012 Jeep Grand Cherokee on Church Street last Thursday (July 13) around noontime. Scituate Collision arrived and opened the SUV.

Solicitors

Police responded to three reports of solicitors last week. Two were working for profit-based businesses and the solicitors were told they had to obtain permits from the police. The other call was for Jehovah's Witnesses, who are allowed to solicit without a permit since they are from a religious organization.

Permits are $75 and are good for 30 days, police said. The solicitor must wear the permit on a lanyard that is visible to the resident. Police run background checks of those applying for permits in Cohasset.

Pole hit

National Grid was contacted to replace a decorative light pole that was hit on Jerusalem Road and knocked over in an apparent hit-and-run last Friday (July 14) around 3:30 p.m.

Warrant arrest

Jon J. Caron, 62, of 60 Elm St., #28 was arrested on a default warrant out of Quincy District Court for the Weymouth police for operating under the influence of alcohol. Cohasset police received the notice from the court and took Caron into custody on Saturday morning (July 11).

Bike taken

A 14-year-old Cohasset boy who had left his Schwinn mountain bike behind Bia Bistro in the town parking lot found it gone when he returned to pick it up on Sunday (July 16). His father called police to report it stolen and described the bike.

An officer spotted a 72-year-old homeless man, who is known to police and formally lived in Scituate, riding the bike on Sohier Street. The man said he had watched the bike and no one came to pick it up so he took it. He was very apologetic and willfully relinquished the bike, police said.

RESCUE

Ripley Road man rescued after fall into hole

A 37-year-old man was injured when he fell down an abandoned septic tank in Cohasset early Wednesday morning (July 19).

The man fell about 10 to 12 feet down into an old dried up septic tank in the back yard of his residence at 25 Ripley Road around 12:17 a.m., Assistant Fire Chief John Dockray said.

The man's teenage daughter called 911, Cohasset Police Chief William Quigley said.

"The way he fell he was trapped inside and there wasn't a lot of room to move around in there," Quigley said.

A firefighter/paramedic from the Cohasset Fire Department was lowered into the hole to access and treat the man, Dockray said.

At the same time, the Plymouth County Tech Rescue Team was requested to the scene to assist Cohasset Fire Department personnel in removing him. The process took approximately 20 minutes once the tech team arrived on scene and set up the necessary equipment for removal, Dockray said.

Once the man was removed from the hole, he was transported by the Cohasset Fire Department ambulance to the Milliken Field Landing Zone.

His care was then transferred to Boston Med Flight Crew who transported the individual to Massachusetts General Hospital.

Twenty-one members from the Plymouth County Tech Rescue Team representing 12 different fire departments from across the South Shore assisted Cohasset Fire Department members on scene in removing the individual, said Dockray.

SENIOR CENTER

Shredding Day

Some financial statements and private papers hold enough information for a knowledgeable thief to assume your identity and begin stealing your money. Financial institutions and consumer watchdog agencies urge citizens to destroy those documents rather than put them in their recycling or trash bin.

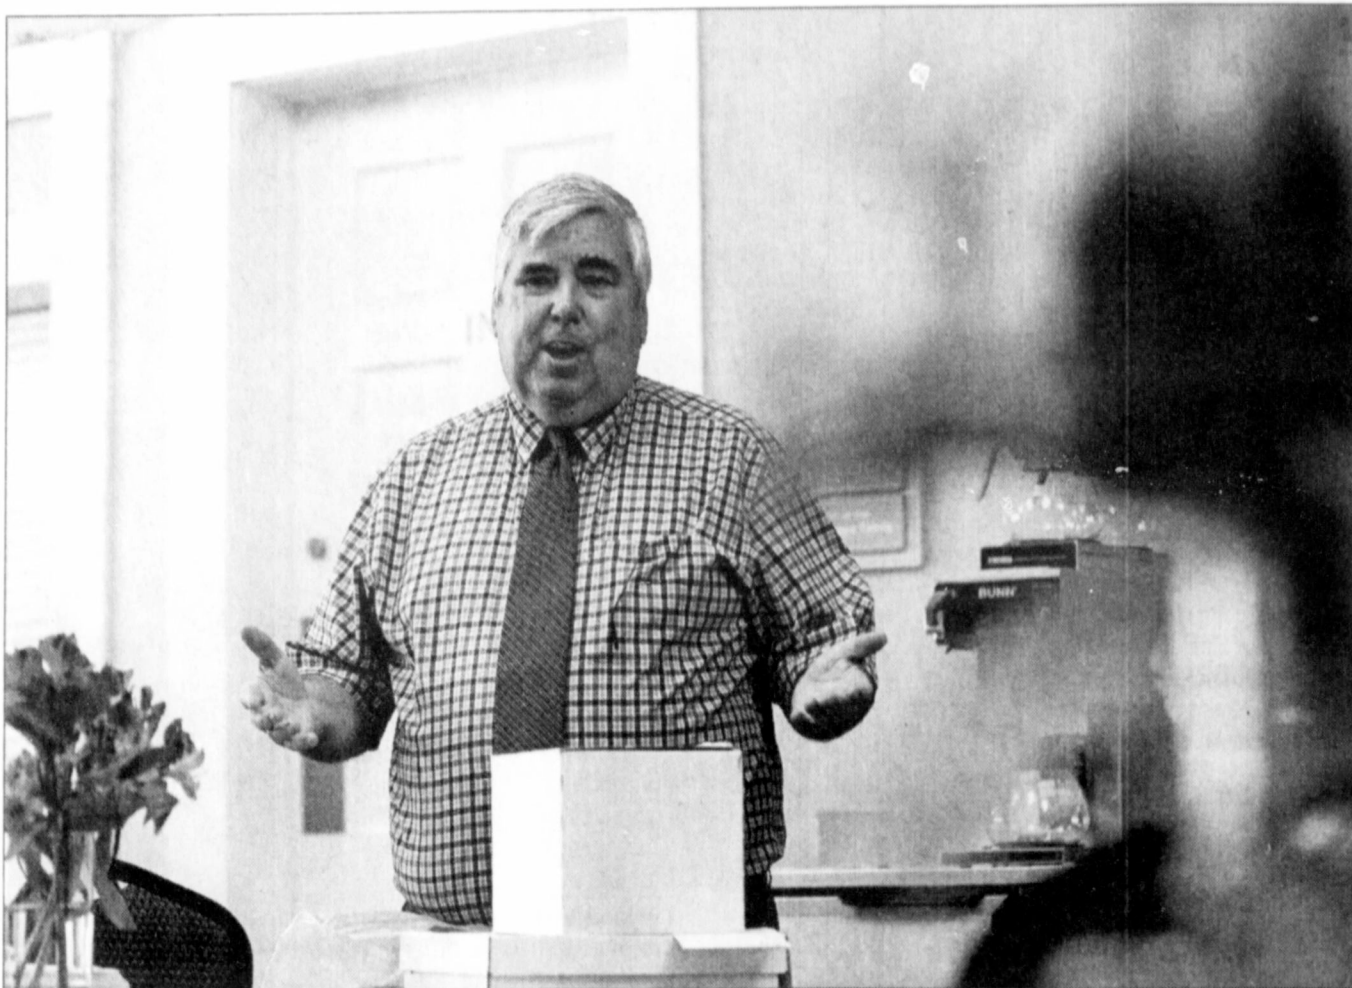

Because not everyone has a shredder at home, Norfolk District Attorney Michael W. Morrissey is sponsoring secure document shredding events at Senior Centers across Norfolk County to help dispose of those piles quickly, safely and for free.

The Cohasset Council on Aging hosted the shredding event at Willcutt Commons on Monday. A private shredding company was on site with Morrissey and members of his staff, who gave a brief talk on avoiding identity theft at the start of the event.

There were more than 17 million victims of identity theft nationally in 2014, the last year for which the federal government has posted statistics, according to the DA's Office.

"We know that seniors, who did not come up in the age of computers, can be specifically targeted. This is a simple step to help citizens prevent crimes before they happen," DA Morrissey said. "Shredding is the 21st century equivalent of locking your car doors at night."

Carillonneur from Belgium to play Sunday

The next concert in the St. Stephen's Carillon Summer Concert Series, on Sunday, July 23, will feature carillonneur Nikita Gratchev, from Mechelen, Belgium.

Mechelen is the epicenter of the carillon in Europe, and many carillonneurs go there to study at the Royal Institute of Carillon Art "Jef Denyn," which is the premier school for carillon study on the Continent. Gratchev has been studying carillon at the school "Jef Denyn" for some time, and at the age of nineteen has already performed in Belgium, the United States, Holland, Russia, France, Portugal, and England. In 2012 he won First Prize in the International Carillon Competition for Youth.

"Nikita is an amazing player," says John Whiteside, Music Director at St. Stephen's Church. "We have great carillonneurs from all over the world playing on our carillon during the summer, but it is a real pleasure to have someone at the beginning of what looks to be an amazing career playing for us this Sunday."

The carillon is a remarkable instrument, which is hardly surprising given that the largest bell is almost 12 tons in weight. Yes, the instrument can sound loud but in the hands of a skilled player it can also sound soft, and its range of expression is pretty remarkable."

Many people come to hear the carillon on the Cohasset Town Common, and sit around the duck pond with snacks or a picnic dinner to hear the music. Others come into the courtyard of the church, where the bells sound clear and loud right over their heads.

"No matter where you listen the instrument is like nothing you have ever heard, and it has been performing concerts for the members of the Cohasset community for almost one hundred years now," says Whiteside.

Concerts take place rain or shine, and people who wish to come when weather is inclement can either sit in their cars or come to the Parish Hall at St. Stephen's Church, where the bells can be heard in dry comfort. There is plenty of on-street parking, and extra parking is available in the Town Hall Parking Lot. All concerts are free and open to the public, and are presented by the St. Stephen's Episcopal Church as a gift to the community. This year's series is also supported in part by a grant from the Cohasset Cultural Council, a local branch of the Massachusetts Cultural Council.

Tips for having a happy, safe summer

Summer safety

Hello Cohasset, how the heck is everyone? I have been a bit out of touch the past few weeks and am so happy to be back in action. Please don't rush any of the seasons, life just flies way too fast as it is. Send in any great news, fun events, celebrations and happy, silly or summer-time photos!

I want to send a quick safety reminder out to everyone again in regards to our driving, parking and overall common-sense kinds of things, especially in the summer. Please remember that with the beautiful weather and kiddos, parents, child-care providers and everyone out of school, we all need to SLOW DOWN!

Crosswalks, sides of roads, downtown and near the schools are all particularly tricky areas as well as the harbor and beach area. Also make sure to park in areas where you are supposed to and make sure to look as sometimes people come out in front of or behind those cars on foot, bikes or carriages as you drive by.

As a parent, encourage

your children to wear helmets, put down the electronics when crossing streets, use crosswalks and follow other important safety tips.

Fireworks!

Tomorrow night is going to be sparkling and the skies are going to be lit up here over Sandy Beach! The Sandy Beach Association is hosting a clambake and fireworks to kick off the 100th birthday of Sandy Beach. For more see, page A7 or visit: cohassetsandybeach.com

Time to speak up about open space

Are you happy with the direction Cohasset is headed? Speak up on July 29th

On Wednesday July 29th at 6 p.m., Cohasset wants to hear from you on issues related to the town's open spaces and recreational opportunities.

Is Cohasset becoming overdeveloped? Is our town doing enough to preserve open space? Do we have sufficient boat launch areas? Are there things for teens to do in Cohasset?

These are just some of the questions that the Open Space and Recreation Committee wants the town's citizens to answer at an open forum on July 29th.

The information gathering is one of the tasks that the committee is undertaking in order to revise the town's soon-to-expire Open Space Plan, last updated in 2010. The Open Space and Recreation Committee has been working since early Spring with South Shore civil engineering firm Beals and Thomas to revise the plan.

Open Space plans are encouraged by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts as tools for managing growth and development and towns with approved Open Space plans are eligible for grant moneys. Cohasset has used such grants in the past to fund the purchase of the Barnes Wildlife Sanctuary, to finance the replacement of the Border Street bridge, and to install rain gardens throughout town.

The forum will take place on July 29th at 6 p.m. at the Town Recreation Center at 100 Sohier St. (in back of the library, near the playground). All town residents are invited; refreshments will be served.

SANDY BEACH

Fireworks kick off 100th birthday celebration

Join the 100th year celebration of Sandy Beach's Fireworks display on Saturday, July 22nd. All are welcome to attend this community event. Sandy Beach Association is hosting the fireworks display, which should begin at dark. The fireworks will be launched 1,500 feet off the beach from a barge. This will allow residents to enjoy the fireworks from Sandy Beach, as well as many other vantage points in Cohasset.

Sandy Beach will remain open as usual all weekend. Residents are invited to come to the beach with picnics or watch from other areas in town. Ice Cream and water will be sold, as well as glow toys, souvenirs and special 100 Year commemorative Sandy Beach merchandise. Parking at Sandy Beach will be restricted to vehicles with 2017 Cohasset All Facility stickers and spaces will be available on a first come basis.

Free bus shuttle services from Cohasset High School to Sandy Beach begin at 5:30 p.m. and continuing until after the fireworks show ends. There will be an area on the North side across from Nichols Road that will be designated for passenger drop off and pick up. Cars will be allowed to discharge passengers and gear.

The police, fire, harbor patrol and Coast Guard will be on hand to make sure that the fireworks event is safe and fun event. The police will be restricting traffic to flow one-way in a northern direction between Beach Street and Jerusalem Road beginning at 6:30 p.m. Nichols Road will be restricted at that time to residents and emergency vehicles only.

All those coming to the beach for the fireworks should take all trash home. Please do not leave garbage or recyclables outside of full bins.

This fireworks are the kick off to Sandy Beach Association's Centennial Celebration. They are holding a capital campaign to raise money to remodel and redesign the current bathhouse. Residents are encouraged to donate to help support Sandy Beach, especially during this special year. The Association encourages people to share their historical stories of Sandy Beach and photos from the beach. Please submit to info@cohassetsandybeach.com. The Association will be compiling these stories, photos and memories in the Mariner throughout the summer.

Town looks to fill finance director post

By Abigail Adams
aadams@wickedlocal.com

Cohasset is beginning the search for its next Finance Director and Town Accountant.

Mary Gallagher, who has been the town's Finance Director and Town Accountant since Dec. 2011, will be retiring this fall, leaving behind big shoes for her successor to fill.

The Board of Selectmen and Town Manager Chris Senior have made a collaborative effort to ensure the job description, which is still being drafted, will emphasize some of the increasingly key aspects of the position including strategic thinking and leadership.

"We're clearly looking for a broad, strategic-thinking person," said Selectman Kevin McCarthy, "and I would actually go as far as to say we should ask for experience in that area and make sure we get it."

Selectman Jack Keniley is hopeful whoever takes her place is prepared for the task at hand.

"The story is that we've really come a long way and we want to take it to the next level," said Keniley, "and we're looking for the kind of person, who really wants to make a mark and do some interesting things."

According to Town Manager Chris Senior, the position will be posted online once the final job description has been composed. A date has not yet been selected for Gallagher's departure.

down and outward due to water infiltration on the back side of the wall. The guardrail surrounding the seating area was also no longer level at the time, creating an even greater public hazard.

But before the business could act, the patio crumbled into the sea.

Repairs were quickly made to the site; three loads of stone were brought in to help support the patio and placed against the existing wall and new fencing and guardrails have been put in place to ensure the safety of patrons. Both Egan and Laspada believe the property is safer and more stable than it has been for quite some time.

"It's good to see that they got to work on it right away," said Egan, commending the business for being on top of the necessary repair work.

As for the Olde Salt House, Laspada said you would never know anything was ever different.

"We're open for business," said Laspada. "It's just business as usual."

Square and Dennis Reardon Square.

According to Chairman Glenn Pratt, the committee would like to install a new bluestone hardscape layout for the Gold Star Mothers Memorial to help simplify landscaping for the site and scale back some of the shrubbery shrouding Cogill Square at Church and Doane streets. The committee is open to suggestions for revamping the Reardon Square Memorial on Elm Street.

The committee would also like to add a number of names to the Vietnam Memorial in Veterans Park.

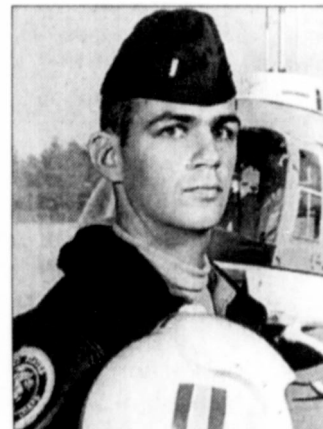

The Board did vote to move the Edward Maree Landing Memorial located off of Parker Avenue from one side of the parking lot to a more optimal position on the other. Members of the Board of Selectmen collectively believe public input should be sought before moving forward with the remaining projects.

Selectmen Jack Keniley and Diane Kennedy scheduled a walk-through of the remaining memorial sites in question alongside Pratt to better understand the needs of the sites before putting the projects to a vote at one of the upcoming Board of Selectmen meetings. The next Board of Selectmen meeting is scheduled for Tuesday, July 25.

OUR VIEW

Higher education becomes a target

The Pew Research Center recently polled Americans about their views on some major societal institutions. Much of the results were predictable. Respondents still feel pretty good about churches and other religious organizations (59 percent view them positively) and pretty bad about the national news media (63 percent see them negatively, which was one of the strongest and broadest views recorded in the survey).

But there was one surprise in the study, and it represents a significant shift in attitude: Republicans surveyed have a negative impression of the nation's colleges and universities.

Two years ago, a similar survey by Pew found that 54 percent of Republicans viewed American higher education positively, while 37 percent said they had a negative impact. The poll conducted in mid-June practically reversed the numbers with 58 percent of Republicans saying colleges and universities have had a negative impact on the United States and just 36 percent identifying it as positive. That's a stunning result and not at all shared by Democrats, who have only seen college favorably during this decade, rising from 65 percent approval in 2010 to 72 percent last month.

So when did higher education become a partisan affair?

Part of the trend is surely the growing education gap. In short, Democrats are more likely to be college educated

Clearly, it's because of some incidents on campuses that have enraged conservatives who generally lump them under the heading, "acts of political correctness."

with 53 percent having a four-year degree or better compared to 41 percent of Republican, according to the most recent Pew research. That, too, is a change from years past. It was 49 percent to 45 percent advantage for the GOP in 1992. But that shift in demographics has been modest and incremental, the negative view of higher education by the Party of Lincoln overall has been much more abrupt and dramatic.

Why? Clearly, it's because of some incidents on campuses that have enraged conservatives who generally lump them under the heading, "acts of political correctness." But this should not be reason enough to conclude that the nation's universities are having a negative impact on society.

Colleges and universities make easy targets if their critics don't spend much time on campus, and don't see the cutting-edge research, the continued devotion to thinking and learning in the classroom, the sacrifices made by students who juggle work study and off-campus jobs with their studies.

COMMENTARY

Preventing over-development: Still up to the citizens

By Citizens for Cohasset's Future

Seven. That's the number of votes it took to defeat a major "land alteration" piece of legislation at the Spring Town Meeting. It had been introduced by our group, Citizens for Cohasset's Future, and would have prohibited the practice of 'clear cutting' trees on wooded lots and limited the large-scale removal of rock ledge. The measure received a decisive majority of votes cast at the meeting, yet fell just seven votes short of the 2/3 majority needed to become law.

The fact that a citizen's petition came within a hair's breadth of passage should have sent a clear signal that a large number of residents urgently want to see laws to better guide future development.

There are over 30 wooded acres of land listed for sale in Cohasset today, and they represent just a small percentage of the land that is now considered 'developable' in town.

Indeed, the closeness of the vote led our group to hope that the Town would take up this issue and propose a bill for Fall Town Meeting, tentatively scheduled for early October.

Unfortunately, the Cohasset Selectmen have stated that they do not have plans to propose a land alteration bill for the next Town Meeting, citing the town's tradition of voting on zoning and land use articles during Spring town meetings only.

While we respect tradition, we don't believe the town can afford to wait. Developers and those who are clear cutting across Cohasset certainly are not waiting. There are over 30 wooded acres of land listed for sale in Cohasset today, and they represent just a small percentage of the land that is now considered 'developable' in town. Change is happening quickly.

Citizens for Cohasset's Future is therefore declaring plans to put forth an amended version of the previous land alteration bill for the Fall Meeting. We have received input from town leaders and the community at large, and believe that the proposed bylaw balances property rights with smart development, giving land owners flexibility while attempting to preserve Cohasset's traditional character and scenic beauty. The bill will be published well in advance of the Fall meeting on the website: CohassetCitizen.org.

We now count more than 500 people among our dedicated subscribers. We formed in response to the sort of development that has become characteristic of our town: where wooded lots are clear cut, stripped of all vegetation, and then blasted to flatten Cohasset's characteristic stone ledge. At Fall Town Meeting, we are optimistic that we -- the citizens of Cohasset -- can change that trend and preserve Cohasset for future generations.

Subscriptions: $75.95 for up to 52 weeks in town, $96.95 out of town

Offer valid for in-town delivery within the newspaper distribution area for new subscribers only. A new subscriber is a household that has not had an active subscription in the past 30 days. The advertised price for the offer includes the one-time $5.95 activation fee for new subscribers but does not include the charges for any premium editions for all subscribers. Premium editions are published to provide additional information and value to our readers. You agree that you will be charged an additional $2.00 for each premium edition published and delivered to you during your subscription period, in addition to the cost of your subscription. The length of your subscription will be shortened by the publication of premium editions if those premium editions are delivered to you during your subscription, unless you elect to be billed separately for premium editions by contacting Customer Service at 1-888-697-2737. Thus, unless you elect to be billed separately an additional $2.00 for each premium edition, you agree that the length of your subscription will be shortened in proportion to the value of the number of premium editions published and delivered to you during your subscription period. For example, if you select a subscription of up to 12 weeks at a cost of $48.00, and two premium editions are published and delivered to you during that subscription period, your subscription will be shortened by 1 week because the weekly cost of the subscription is $4.00 per week and the premium edition charges total $4.00. Depending upon the length of your subscription and the timing of the publication and delivery of premium editions, you will not be charged for any premium editions if none are published and delivered to you during your subscription. As such, in that case only, the length of your subscription will not be shortened. The timing of the publication and delivery of premium editions are variable. There will be no more than eight premium editions published in the 2017 calendar year. Please see <https://explore.mypapertoday.com/premiumeditions> for examples of premium editions. Marie with Captain Matt and his main man Tom for a day of lobster fishing. After helping to bait over 200 traps and banding over 400 claws, I gained a new appreciation for what these guys and gals do. I can now say unequivocally that the Cohasset lobster fishing fleet is one of the most iconic symbols of our town's history and very important part of our future. I can also say, (still sore from the experience) these fishermen work really, really hard.

Signs to share history of Government Island

By Jack Tolman

In the heart of town stands Government Island, part of Cohasset Harbor. While today, the area is used as the Cohasset Sailing Club, dedicated to teaching people to sail, the region also contains plenty of history as well.

In the 1840s, a lighthouse was constructed on outer Minot's Ledge. The seven acre portion of the harbor known as Government's Island was selected to be the Shore Station Reservation for the lighthouse. The lightkeepers and their families lived on this plot of land, but also used it to manage the lighthouse from the shore. When the lighthouse fell in 1851, Government Island was used to test whether or not the granite rocks that were being used to reconstruct the lighthouse would fit.

Beacon Rock stands as the tallest part of Cohasset. Using a semaphore system, a form of flag signalling, messages could be sent all the way from Government Island on top of Beacon Rock to the lighthouse. As time had passed, and the rock wasn't used as much, it became cluttered with shards of glass and graffiti that began to taint its historic significance.

In recent years, however, the location has been cleared and cleaned up along with a trail that was created by Eagle Scout Jack O'Brien in 2013. Now it stands as a testament to its history and a tourist attraction for people who want to know a little bit more about the history of our town.

The Historic Commission of Cohasset's mission is "to identify and preserve town assets" according to Chairman Becky Bates McArthur. One of their most recent endeavors has been to restore Government Island and to educate the public of its history. Currently, they are working to make signs throughout Government Island that will help people understand what different buildings served as in the past and share some knowledge about the area.

The Oil House is another part of Government Island that they are putting a lot of focus toward. Currently, it is used as a storage facility for the Sailing Club, but the building is in need of restoration. In storms, it can become badly damaged, and the storage facility that once held dozens of five gallon containers of whale oil now bears little significance in the eyes of the average citizen. There are very few Oil Houses still around in New England, and the goal is to ensure that this one is preserved.

The signs that are being created are meant to show people that this place has historic significance and that it should be respected and maintained. Two of the four signs have already been created, and the other two are in the process of being made. The signs consist of what they are displaying along with a sentence or two explaining what it is. Additionally, an original map of the land will be displayed.

Government Island houses some of the most historic and significant pieces of Cohasset's past. With the town gearing up for its 250th anniversary in 2020, it's a great time to look back to the past and reflect on the hundreds of years that went into making the town we live in today.

With the help of McArthur, Susanne Wadsworth, and the rest of the Historic Commission, we can educate ourselves about the little known facts of Cohasset, Mass. and help to restore and preserve the history of our town.

SCHOOLS

Deer Hill to replace sound system

Members of the Cohasset School Committee voted unanimously on Wednesday (July 12) to accept a $24,999 donation from the Cohasset PSO to support a new sound system at Deer Hill School.

The gift was originally voted on and approved in the fall of 2016 during a Cohasset Parent School Organization council meeting.

Superintendent Louise Demas said school officials wanted to finalize the major components of the project before accepting the donation.

"We really had to figure out what the sound system would be, who would do [it], and all of the logistics," she noted.

According to Deer Hill School Principal Jennifer deChiara, work on the project began Monday (July 17) and will be completed prior to the first day of school. More specific dates will be available as the work progresses.

BRIEFLY

Selections made for Harbor Committee

The Board of Selectmen has appointed three citizens-at-large to serve on the reconstituted Harbor Committee at their meeting last Tuesday (July 11).

Appointees Timothy Davis and Tom Norton both received four votes while George McGoldrick received three.

John Barrett and Matt

Marr were subsequently appointed as representatives from the Cohasset Lobstermen's Association, effectively filling each open position on the committee.

The remaining members of the board represent different groups and committees relative to the harbor including the harbormaster, commercial fishermen, the Yacht and Sailing Clubs and the Recreation Commission.

The first meeting will be moderated by Town Manager Chris Senior where members of the committee will select a chairman and vice-chairman. The committee will begin reporting quarterly to the Board of Selectmen beginning in August.

$300,000 FOR CENTRALIZED PUBLIC HOUSING WAITING LIST (S 8)

Senate 37-0, approved an amendment providing $300,000 for the creation and implementation of a centralized waiting list for people seeking to rent a unit in state public housing.

Amendment supporters said this is part of the plan to modernize the state's public housing system and local housing authorities. They noted the waiting lists are long and among other things, the centralized list will allow smaller local housing authorities to see where there is availability in other communities.

Amendment supporters said the center was launched four years ago to fill a void and is the first-ever interdisciplinary autism disorder clinic in Metro West and Central Massachusetts. They said the clinic's services are provided by specialists at every stage of patient care, from evaluation and treatment to transition to community providers.

$2 MILLION FOR SHANNON POLICE GRANTS (S 8)

Senate 38-0, approved an amendment increasing funding by $2 million (from $5 million to $7 million) for the state's Shannon Community Safety Initiative to reduce gang violence across the state. The program was established in 2006, in honor of the late Sen. Charlie Shannon who was also a police officer.

The state's website describes the program as one that is aimed at combating gang violence through coordinated prevention and intervention, law enforcement, prosecution and reintegration programs.

Amendment supporters said these grants have been successful in helping to combat and reduce youth, gun and gang violence in the state. They noted the program increases community outreach to at-risk youths and provides them with positive opportunities and information that help divert them away from gang activity.

HOUSE WAYS AND MEANS CHAIRMAN BRIAN DEMPSEY TO STEP DOWN - In an unexpected announcement, Rep. Brian Dempsey (D-Haverhill), the 6-year chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, announced that he will soon resign his House seat to become senior vice president and chief operating officer of ML Strategies, a well-known and well-connected lobbying firm. ML Strategies' roster has included former Gov. Bill Weld, Stephen Tocco, the former Executive Director and CEO of Massport and the late Gov. Paul Cellucci.

Dempsey, arguably the second most powerful person in the House after Speaker Bob DeLeo (D-Winthrop), has served in the Legislature since 1991 and was tapped by DeLeo in 2011 to become Ways and Means chair. His departure will leave DeLeo with a very powerful position to fill in the next few weeks.

"Chairman Dempsey is an outstanding individual who has a brilliant political and fiscal mind," said DeLeo. "Moreover, he is a dear friend - we entered the House together - and trusted advisor. I congratulate Chairman Dempsey on this opportunity and I am sure he will be an incredible asset to [ML Strategies]."

STATE-FUNDED COLLEGE TUITION - The Higher Education Committee held a hearing on several bills providing various amounts of state funds for students residing in Massachusetts and attending public state universities and colleges in the Bay State including providing complete free tuition (H 622); complete free tuition for anyone with a family income of less than $200,000 (S 681); free tuition for one year, other than the first year (H 3000); $5,000 (S 691) or $250 (H 2225) to be given to all newborn babies to be used toward a college education; and tuition and fee waivers for veterans (H 636).

REGISTRY OF ABUSERS OF PEOPLE WITH DISABILITIES (S 64) - The Committee on Children, Families and Persons with Disabilities will hold a hearing on July 31 at 1 p.m. in Room B-1 at the Statehouse on a bill establishing a Registry of Caretakers who have abused or financially exploited persons with an intellectual disability or developmental disability. The measure requires service providers to check the registry prior to hiring an individual as a caretaker and prohibits the hiring if the person's name is in the registry.

"MIRACLE LEAGUE" FIELDS (S 78) - Also on the Committee on Children, Families and Persons with Disabilities' agenda is a proposal that requires the state to create and fund the creation of five outdoor "miracle fields" to provide recreational resources and assist people with disabilities. The fields would be geographically distributed with at least one field each in western Massachusetts, central Massachusetts and eastern Massachusetts.

REVENUE COMMITTEE HEARING - The Revenue Committee held a hearing on 16 bills including:

TAX INCENTIVE FOR EMPLOYERS TO HELP EMPLOYEES WITH STUDENT LOANS (S 1516) - Gives employers an annual tax deduction of up to $2,000 for helping an employee pay off his or her student loan.

DEDUCT SCHOOL AND MUNICIPAL FEES FROM INCOME TAX (H 1574) - Allows taxpayers to annually deduct all fees paid to a city or town for trash pickup or disposal, children's transportation to or from a public school and participation in sports, academic or other student activities.

DEDUCT COLLEGE TUITION (H 1582) - Allows taxpayers to annually deduct an amount equal to 50 percent of the cost of tuition and fee payments made to a college or university in which the taxpayer or a dependent is enrolled.

REDUCE INCOME TAX TO 5 PERCENT (H 2619) - Lowers the income tax rate from 5.1 percent to 5 percent.

TEACHERS CAN DEDUCT SOME CLASSROOM EXPENSES (H 1586) - Allows teachers to deduct up to $250 annually of what they pay out of their pockets for classroom materials including books, supplies, computers, software and other equipment uses in the classroom. The proposal mirrors the same tax deduction currently allowed by the IRS on federal tax returns.

HOW LONG WAS LAST WEEK'S SESSION? Beacon Hill Roll Call tracks the length of time that the House and Senate were in session each week. Many legislators say that legislative sessions are only one aspect of the Legislature's job and that a lot of important work is done outside of the House and Senate chambers. They note that their jobs also involve committee work, research, constituent work and other matters that are important to their districts. Critics say that the Legislature does not meet regularly or long enough to debate and vote in public view on the thousands of pieces of legislation that have been filed. They note that the infrequency and brief length of sessions are misguided and lead to irresponsible late-night sessions and a mad rush to act on dozens of bills in the days immediately preceding the end of an annual session.

During the week of July 10-14, the House met for a total of 10 hours and 55 minutes and the Senate met for a total of three hours and 54 minutes.

"I only choose the best quality," she said. "I see them, I touch them, I feel them before I decide to make a garment out of it."

The facility Romito selected for manufacturing her product was one of few that not only provided high working standards for employees -- unlike many of the facilities she had vetted in Asia prior to her selection -- but also specialized in hand-smocking and embroidery, one of the staples of the Nantucket Kids clothing line.

"So if you look at some of the detail on the clothing, that's not done by machine," Romito said. "It's done by hand."

Nantucket Kids is currently sold in four locations including Carolann's in Hingham, Pocket Full of Posies in Osterville, The Groovy Gator in Newport, R.I., and Moores Mill Monograms in Auburn, Ala. According to Romito, the brand will hopefully continue to expand to stores across the nation, and fast.

next year."

The fall collection for Nantucket Kids -- which will feature "lots of tarts and plaids" to emphasize the brand's classic New England style -- will be in stores and online in mid-August. The spring 2018 line is already in the works and will feature sizes up to 5 for boys and 6 for girls.

Until then, Romito will continue to grow and promote her unique brand both online and in retail locations across the nation as she continues to expand her business endeavors. For someone who spent years in the insurance agency, working in the fashion industry has proved most gratifying for Romito.

"I love it," she said. "I've never worked this hard in my life but it is totally different when you're working for yourself. It is totally rewarding."

has afforded me."

To express her undying appreciation for the institution, Millard decided to gift the Paul Pratt Memorial Library a hand-stitched quilt of her own creation that reflected a lifelong passion for literature.

The gift, which took Millard six months to complete, was unveiled during Story Time on Tuesday (July 18) run by Children's Librarian Sharon Moody. The piece will be hung in the Children's Room for some of the library's youngest visitors to enjoy and incorporates a number of storybook characters children have come to know and love for generations.

The quilt was modeled after one Millard had originally created for her granddaughter nearly 20 years ago. Moody suggested swapping out a handful of classic characters for more modern favorites among today's youth. Characters like the Very Hungry Caterpillar, Gerald and Piggy, and the mouse from "If You

A number of popular characters were featured on the quilt including Curious George, Peter Rabbit, the Cat in the Hat, and Winnie the Pooh.

Children attending Tuesday's Story Time were intrigued by the bright colors and familiar characters depicted on the quilt that hung in the front of the room, many of them running up to greet some of their favorite characters stitched into the fabric. Millard was not bothered by this, nor is she bothered by the idea that the quilt will likely be touched and explored by children for years to come, unlike most gifts made to any institution.

"You could never hurt a quilt," she said. "It's not supposed to be a work of art."

Moody held an additional quilting activity for children on Thursday (July 20) to compliment the official unveiling of the quilt in which children created paper quilts of their own.

AMERICAN LEGION BASEBALL

Building toward the future

Post 118 has successful building season

By Mark Ducharme
Correspondent

A doubleheader with Weymouth was the swan song of the season for the Cohasset/Scituate Post 118 American Legion Baseball team in tough fashion.

They were swept by Weymouth in the doubleheader but general manager Scott Arnold had nothing but praise for his young team. He told them how proud of the way that they worked during the season.

"We have had a great season in a building year," Arnold said. "Our junior program finished in second in the league. I just told the kids that we are just going to keep building. We ran with 15 kids this season and every kid was equal. They all did what they could to win a baseball game."

The goals were simple for Post 118 this year, according to Arnold.

They wanted to work at improving on the little things and not allow teams to get an advantage against them.

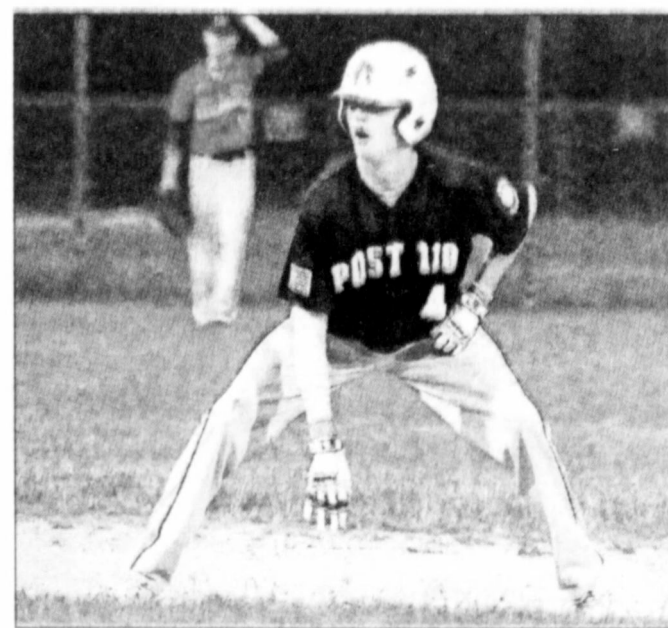

"As I said at the beginning, we worked on how runs score," Arnold said. "The mistakes you make in baseball, overthrowing the baseball and not hitting your cutoffs. Our goal was to get back to basics. It was not only a building year, but a learning year as well."

After a tough start, Post 118 got stronger and beat some good teams along the way that made the playoffs, Morrisette and Hyde Park.

"We played well in the second half of the season," Arnold said. "We just were not beating the teams that we were supposed to beat. We beat the teams that were in the top three and that was a big lift for us. It made it more fun for us. Everyone hit and everyone

The Cohasset Swim Center diving team continues to impress with a commanding victory during the second diving meet of the season.

Cohasset led the competition with a total of 29 points over its nearest competitor Scituate Knights of Columbus with 17 points, followed by the Duxbury Yacht Club at 11 points and Scituate Yacht Club finishing the group with 7 points.

There were multiple standout performances by several divers in the meet beginning with a first place in the Boys 9-and-Under category by Lucas Stefan bolstered by an outstanding back somersault. The 9-and-Under girls category also showed their potential with a third place finish for Ava Joyce in her first meet

YOUTH RUGBY

South Shore Sharks flag rugby plays at Gullfest Tournament

The South Shore Sharks flag rugby team arrived at Gullfest 2017 tournament at Pine Banks Park in Malden on Saturday to play youth rugby powerhouse Mystic River, North Shore and Wrentham.

The day started at 9 a.m. with the Sharks third and fourth grade side shutting out Mystic River's first team in a 5-0 victory.

The Sharks were impressive on both sides of the ball showing terrific ball skills and maintaining possession on long sustained drives.

The good start to the day was followed by four losses to Mystic River (fifth/sixth), Mystic River team 2 (third/fourth), North Shore in a split squad (fifth/sixth) and Mystic River team 3 (third/fourth).

The Sharks finished the day with a win over the Wrentham Barbarians fifth and sixth grade squad.

After the official play was over The Sharks also sided a bonus game of all youth ages after a six-hour tournament and 90 degree weather That's rugby!

The Sharks played exceedingly well even in defeat losing all games by no more than one try each.

Lady luck was simply in the opponents corner it seemed as the ball took unfavorable bounces throughout the day leading to excellent plays by the opposing teams.

The leading scorers on the day were four tries for Braxton Blind(Scituate) in the third/fourth graders and an impressive 10 Dominick Kessel (Taunton) for the fifth and sixth grade group.

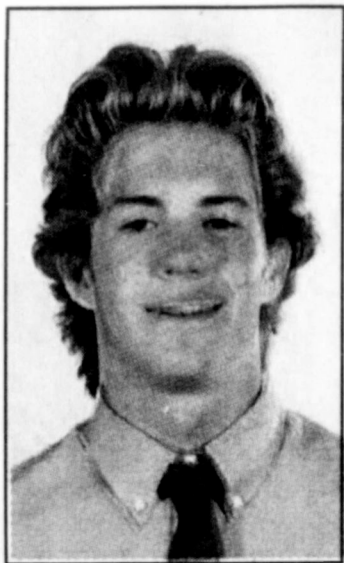

Also of note was Lucas Floyd with seven combined tries on the day, two for North Shore over the Sharks and Gus McDonald (Duxbury) one of our newest players with his first try.

National presence

Xcel Taekwondo athletes shine at AAU Nationals

This past week, Xcel Taekwondo Center had the honor of having 12 of its finest athletes compete at the 2017 AAU Nationals in Fort Lauderdale, Florida.

The event had more than 2,200 athletes from all over United States competing in Forms, Breaking and Olympic Sparring.

For the first time, Xcel Taekwondo had the pleasure of reaching the highest place on the podium as Joao Victor Costa, won his event, becoming an AAU National champion and part of the 2017/18 AAU National Team.

Jaylin Salter also won one of the most competitive divisions, Junior Black belt 15 yrs to 17 yrs old, becoming National champion and is now the No. 1 seed going into AAU National team trials this September.

Fiona Shortt was again able to perform at a high level winning an impressive 4-3 victory against a Puerto Rican National Team member.

In her second match, she defeated the current USA National Champion with an amazing head kick while only seconds remained.

Shortt fought well at finals and secured Silver becoming the No. 2 seed going into AAU National team trials this September.

David Hutton also had a great run at his first Nationals.

Competing in Boys 6 and 7 beginners, Hutton won a nail biting first match 14-13 against a Florida competitor.

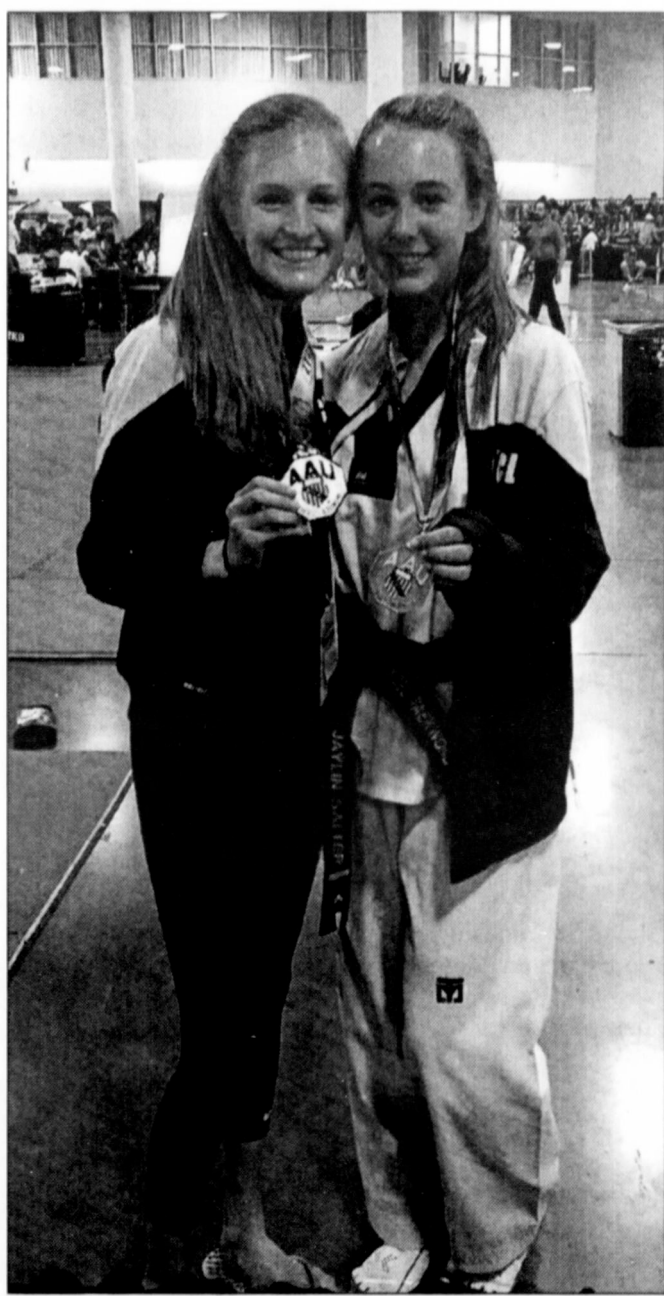

He unfortunately lost his semi-final match against an athlete from Texas.

It was a fantastic job from a promising young athlete.

Xcel Taekwondo also had Jessica and Erin Gustafson competing in the Black Belt division. Jessica, former top four in the country, had an unusual off day and lost her first match 7-6.

Erin, after nursing a bad injury for the past three weeks, showed tremendous determination but unfortunately also lost her first match.

the boys 15-to-17 Black Belt division.

Balestracci had one of the best matches of the day, showing some amazing foot work and strength, but he unfortunately lost a 13-12 match to the eventual silver medalist.

Dias had a tough draw facing the current US National team member in his first match.

Dias fought very hard but couldn't find his points against a more seasoned competitor.

Fanoula and Sophia Venetis had their first go on a National level stage; they both lost first round but gained a lot of experience.

Nick Fountas also had a nail biting first round and won his first match by a golden point. Unfortunately he lost the next round by just two points.

Genna Damato also competed at the girls 10-11 yr old intermediate competing at her first time at Nationals.

Damato had an amazing performance but lost her first match against a more experienced player from Virginia.

In September, Salter and Shortt will compete at the AAU National team trials against the top four athletes in the country within their prospective divisions, giving them the opportunity to make 2017 AAU National team.

"At Xcel Taekwondo Center, we cannot describe how proud we are of these young athletes who have tremendous dedication and discipline," the Center's Fabio Takahashi said. "After three months of preparation they were able to perform at the highest level in the country."

Xcel Taekwondo Center is located at 24 Rockland Street in Hanover and offers Taekwondo classes for all levels and ages, Personal Training, and FitLight Speed and Agility Training. Visit www.xceltkdcenter.com for more information.

had a smile on their face, and had fun this summer."

They will graduate only three players from the team.

This year, Cohasset added three players from Hull because Hingham had suspended its team for a season.

"Scottie Arnold just completed his fifth year, Alec Norton and Nate Ryan both completed their fourth year in the program," Arnold said. "It is kind of bittersweet to see their careers come to an end. We hope that the Hull kids that joined us this year will come back and the other Hull people saw the fun that they had. We have building blocks. A lot of these players are juniors they will have another year and they will lead the younger kids coming up."

Post 118 had finished the year by playing five games in three days and held its own.

"Basically that is the way that it is," Arnold said. "You got five weeks and we keep voting 20 games, 21 games or whatever instead of an 18 game season it is on us (the administrators in the league). Five weeks is a short time and you have to plan on rainouts. The regular season ends with five games in three days and that is the quality of baseball that you see when you play doubleheaders on top of doubleheaders."

"These guys worked a lot harder to have it end that way, but that is the way the system is."

Bleckley, Becca Glowac, Collin Holson, Charlie, Annabelle and Gerhardt Hoover, and Sonya Penanhoat.

Neighboring Cohasset will have Holiday Host,

Hilton Hudson, Brian Hixson, Carter and Regan Carroll, Claire Harvey and Annabelle and Milly Martin swimming.

Tim Williams and Kelsey, Payton, Kyle and Pierce Donegan of Hingham will also compete.

The team is very excited to have 28 swimmers qualified and travelling to the meet.

Coaches Barb Toohey of Hanover and Julie Margolis of Rockland are looking forward to some fast swims!

With Team New England returning as last year's champions they are expecting strong competition especially from Team Arkansas (2014 and 2013 winners) and USTA (New York) who finished third in 2015.

With teams from across the country competing it should prove to be an exciting and challenging weekend for all the swimmers.

as newcomers to the sport.

The Cohasset 10-12 girls swept the top four places with outstanding performances by Ester Bradley who took first with an exceptional starting dive of an inward dive pike. Sarah Conroy, Jenny Coletta, and Amanda Bross rounded out the sweep by taking second, third and fourth respectively.

Other great performances came from Casey Ognibene, Reilly Nussbaum, Libby Schiffman, Grace Rodgers and Bridget Nussbaum.

The 13-17 Cohasset girls similarly controlled their category with a standout performance by Brooke Leggat who placed first.

Leggat demonstrated her skill with both an outstanding reverse and inward dive. Bridget Kondrat and Jillian Perrone followed Leggat by taking third and fourth with solid performances.

All of the divers took their second victory with grace and great team spirit and move on next week looking to continue their winning streak.

The Cohasset Diving Team is part of the Cohasset

Swim Center Swimming and Diving program. The Cohasset Swimming and Diving Team is a recreational summer league (SSSL) team designed to promote fitness, a love for swimming and diving, and a friendly competitive energy among children.

GIMME SHELTER

Pippin is just about purr-fect

By Christine M. Mosher

This week at Hull Seaside Animal Rescue, we are featuring Pippin, a lovely and sweet spayed 7-year-old girl. Pippin is absolutely beautiful with black and white markings and gorgeous amber eyes that captivate you when she looks your way!

Pippin was the office cat Crazy Paws where she had wonderful care. Recently, it was decided that she should now find a forever home so she can enjoy being with a family. Pippin is a very gentle and mellow girl. She tends to go with the flow because she is used to being around people and other cats.

She is very friendly once you approach her first. She enjoys being around people, but she also enjoys quiet time on her own once in a while. Pippin would probably do well in a home with other cats or as an only cat. She is an adorable cat that would just love to have a forever home. Is Pippin a match for you?

Can you offer Peaches a home or foster Peaches for a few weeks? She is looking for some tender-loving care. [COURTESY PHOTO BY RICH MCSWEENEY]

Peaches is sweet and needs a home soon

My name is Peaches and I'm a senior terrier mix who spent most of my life in a lot of pain because of untreated injuries and basic neglect. In fact, when I got to the shelter, I was pretty much just skin and bones as you can see.

I'm now on pain medication and have gained 9 pounds since I started living in foster care (when I got to the shelter, I was so terrified that I stopped eating, which scared everyone there).

My foster family has been great—I've never had it so good. But now they can't care for me anymore, so I'm looking for a new family to love me, even if it is just until someone is willing to adopt me for good. Or even just for a few weeks!

I know it is hard for

I'm looking for a new family to love me, even if it is just until someone is willing to adopt me for good. Or even just for a few weeks!

someone to take a chance on a dog my age (I'm 11), especially since I'm a breed of dog that people are scared of—and I just don't get along with other dogs because of my previous life.

But I promise I am a sweet old lady. And I like kids! Can you foster or adopt me? Please email info@scituateanimalshelter.org or call 781-544-4533.

by the Cook Bathhouse (on the corner of Beach Avenue and Franklin Street in Hull). East Coast Hui Campers enjoy beach games along with surf and paddleboard instruction. Sudoku

Level: Challenging

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

HOROSCOPE

Salome's Stars

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) You're wise to let your Arian skepticism question a former adversary's request to let bygones be bygones. Time will tell if they are trying to pull the wool over the Lamb's eyes.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Congratulations. Your hard work soon pays off with some well-deserved recognition. Meanwhile, that important personal relationship needs more attention from you.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) That new person in your life seems trustworthy, but don't turn him or her into a confidant just yet. Remember: The secret you don't reveal is the one you won't lose sleep over.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Your kindness makes a difference in someone's life. But by week's end, a touch of Cancerian envy could create a problem with a colleague. Take care to keep it under control.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) A new spurt of energy sends you roaring back into that challenging work situation. But be careful not to overdo it, or your sizzle could fizzle before your task is completed.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Your practical sense helps you see the logic of being a bit more flexible with a workplace colleague. But you still have a ways to go before there's a true meeting of the minds.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) A surprise situation could cause you to spend more money than you feel you can afford. But careful budget adjustments will help. Your fiscal picture soon brightens.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) That decision you made might still have its detractors, but your supporters are growing. Meanwhile, your personal life takes on some welcome new developments.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Matters of the mind intrigue the sage Sagittarian through week's end. By then, you should feel more than ready to make room for pursuits of the heart.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) The canny Capricorn can offer good counsel to others. But how about taking some advice yourself from a close friend or family member who is able and ready to help?

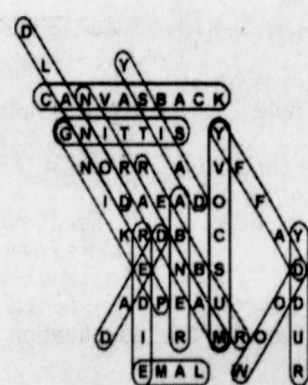

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) A new workplace opportunity offers a variety of challenges that you might find intriguing. Best advice: Take things one step at a time so that you don't feel overwhelmed.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) A bid to revive a relationship that ended on a bitter note needs to be carefully thought out before you can even begin to consider plunging into a new emotional commitment.

BORN THIS WEEK: You enjoy being with people, and people love being with you. You would probably do very well in politics.
